

Guardian Trend-Following during the Coronavirus Crisis

£100,000 Investment, 31 Jan 2020 – 31 Dec 2020
Guardian Adventurous vs. IA Mixed Investment 40-85%

Crossing Point's Guardian trend-following trading strategy minimises risk through international asset allocation and a mix of trend-following moving averages and crossovers for further volatility management. The above chart illustrates the Guardian portfolio trade decisions during the coronavirus crisis.

The graph illustrates the performance of £100,000 invested into the Crossing Point Guardian Adventurous portfolio from January 31 to Dec 31 2020 using our trend-following strategy compared with its benchmark without any tactical trading.

An investment into Guardian Adventurous would have ended the period with £4,696.35 (4.45%) more than an investment in the benchmark.

The chart reflects the trade decisions for each international equity market and coincides with the months shown in the above graph. Each equity fund investment decision was decided individually and informed using trend-following signals. An equity investment of 0% is shown in red. Shades of green represent varying levels of equity investment with dark green indicating a 100% investment.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future performance. The value of investments and any income from them can fall and you may get back less than you invested. The performance demonstrated takes into account fund charges within the portfolio only and excludes transactional, platform, IFA and Crossing Point fees, all of which will reduce the performance and eventual returns over the long term.
